MARK TWAIN, BOY HATER.

In all literature there are few books with a more sympathetic, tender attitude toward boys than Mark Twain's classics, "Tom Sawyer" and "Huckleberry Finn."

Yet Mark Twain himself, according to a Syracuse man who worked for him as a youngster, did not like boys. They got on his nerves; indeed, he was downright crabby to them at times.

This comes as a surprise. The immortal Tom and Huck seem the creations of a man who was always a boy at heart himself; a man who loved boyishness because he never outgrew it.

Yet, this acquaintance tells us, Mark Twain disliked boys. They irritated him. He could not put up with their pranks, their noisiness, their thoughtless, clumsy horseplay.

However, this needn't make any difference to anyone who admires Mark Twain's epics of boyhood. We do not need to revise our opinion of the man. For it has always been true that most men are better men in their dreams than they are in the flesh, and Mark Twain was no exception.

The world is not, unfortunately, over-full of charming people. Most of us are pretty badly stuffed with such unattractive qualities as cowardice, selfishness and prejudice. We don't amount to nearly as much as we like to believe that we do.

But we have our dreams and our visions. And they redeem us.

Mark Twain may have been, in the flesh, crabby and irritable where boys were concerned; but in his dreams he could get out of his shell and consort with Tom and Huck as an equal, making himself over so that the imperfections and crudities of boyhood no longer rasped him.

We lesser mortals are much the same. We don't write books about it, to be sure; yet we have our own dreams, by which we escape from what we are to what we ought to be.

In real life we may be small and petty and narrow, given to hatreds and passions and unworthy desires; but in our hearts we know better. We have our own ideals, even if we do not always live up to them. Like Mark Twain, we imagine ourselves rising above the small annoyances and limitations of daily existence and being all that we ought to be.

It doesn't matter much that so many of us confine our best deeds to our dreams. Concrete happenings are often far less important than dreams and visions. The race advances because it can imagine itself doing better than it is.

Every time a man gets disgusted with his own smallness and reminds himself of the ideal which he ought to attain, the world moves forward.

OIL PROBLEM AWAITS HOOVER.

Among the important problems awaiting the attention of President Hoover is the matter of oil conservation—a problem that is as weighty as any, although the general public has given it little thought.

The Federal Oil Conservation Board, appointed by President Coolidge, submitted its report on the present situation recently. It remarked that the oil industry had eliminated much waste and had done much to save our oil; but it emphasized the fact that the country is still exhausting its oil reserves at a dangerous rate. We consume 72 per cent of all the oil used in the world, and we produce 65 per cent of world production; yet our total oil resources are only 18 per cent of the world's resources.

Eventually this might easily lead to a serious situation. The matter demands, and undoubtedly will get, the earnest consideration of our new engineer-president.

SOME FIGURES ON AVIATION.

If you doubt that the aviation industry is rapidly on the way to a position among the nation's industrial giants, harken to these figures just made public by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce.

During 1928 American aircraft manufacturers built airplanes to the value of over $75,000,000—140 per cent greater than in 1927.

To be sure, as American businesses go, a gross production of only $75,000,000 is not large. But it is the rate of growth which this figure indicates that is important. The aircraft industry is just beginning to hit its stride. Such cities as Wichita, Kas., where airplane factories are centering, can look to the future with a great deal of optimism.

The four horses who dragged a 300-year-old turtle out of the Gulf of Mexico should be sent to Washington. Maybe these are the very horses to unseat a few of the hardshells who have been decorating the Capitol so long.

Major Segrave's 231 miles an hour at Daytona Beach is a fine thing in itself, but awful example to be setting for the Sunday drivers.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNUCK

The bunch were filled with keen delight. 'Twas great to see the broad daylight, when they had been lost in a cave for day and days and days. "Oh, look," cried Clowzy, "down below is where I'd really like to go. I see some lovely fields of green where cattle likely graze."

"Just think! If we can find a cow, we'll get a pail of milk somehow, and then we'll hunt for berries. They will make a dandy meal. We haven't had a bite I guess, for many days. I'm in distress. I never realized before how hungry one can feel."

"Sometimes," snapped Scouty "you are rude. You never think of a thing but food. I'd like to see that valley too, but not to merely eat."

The grass looks tempting, I'll admit, and that's just where I'd like to sit. To loaf around for 'bout an hour would be a wondrous treat."

A coal man then spoke up and said, "Well, come on, lads, let's go ahead. There is no sense in staying here. Who's game to follow me?" "I am," yelled Coppy, "right away." And then he stopped and shouted, "Say! How we are going to get down there is what I cannot see."

The little coal man loudly roared, "Leave that to me, boys! Hop aboard our funny little cave car and we'll have a speedy trip. If you will all hang on real tight, I know that all will be all right. Don't try to climb up on the edge or you will likely slip."

So, when they all were sitting tight, the coal man pushed with all his might, and down the hill the coal car went. It almost brought a scare. But, Mister Coal Man had the knack of keeping it upon the track and not a thing went wrong as they went sailing through the air.

(The Tinymites have an accident in the next story.)

ROCHELLE NEWS

Rochelle—The following contracts have been accepted for the building of Rochelle's new $50,000 parochial school building according to Rev. Father O'Brien:

General contractor—Paul E. Korman & Co., Sterling
Electrician—George Lathrop, Rochelle.

Plumbing—Credrick & Sons, of Rockford.

The Rev. Father J. A. Solon of St. Mary's parish, DeKalb and Rev. Father A. E. Henzler of Freeport have been named by Bishop Hoban, of Rockford diocese to assist the Rev. Father O'Brien in supervising construction of the new school. Laymen board members of the committee of five are Martin Coleman, James DeCourcy.

The architect is W. J. Van der Meer of Rockford.

The second floor of the new building will be devoted entirely to school purposes, with class rooms, modern equipment and conveniences.

The first floor will be constructed as an auditorium which will contain portable seats, and in addition will provide quarters for the Knights of Columbus, the R. C. L. society and the Altar society.

It is planned to have the edifice open for classes next September.

At Monday night's city council meeting the following bids were read and reviewed at a special meeting Wednesday evening for the remodeling and enlargement construction work to be done at the new Diesel engine unit. Bids are as follows: Mark Smith & Son, Dixon, $11,961; J. C. Morrison & Son, $9,867; Sam Hamaker, $9,047.07.

Spring vacation will be omitted in the local schools this year, a fortnight having been given at the holiday recess. Several visiting days are planned, however, which will mean one-day vacations, to be announced later. The schools will remain in session this year until June 7.

Mrs. C. W. Zimmerman reported picking crocus blossoms from her garden last Thursday, which was a regular spring day.

The approach of spring means added activities for the Rochelle Asparagus Co., and according to officials, the middle of April will find workers in the field, weather permitting. It is planned this year to set an additional 80 acres of asparagus, bringing the total amount of ground under cultivation for this one particular crop to 500 acres. Cutting will begin probably the last of April, and the plant will open in full swing about May first.

Owing to the bad roads, the movement of grain has been rather slow the past week. Doyon-Rayne Lumber Co., reports, Connie Stein delivered several hundred bushels of barley, also a quantity of oats. William Hedtke brought in some barley from the McConaughy & Gardhouse farm.

Jay Ackland had been delivering corn of an excellent grade.

The Rochelle Seed Co. are disposing of their second carload of barley seed.

Andrew Hill, prominent farmer residing south of Creston, met with an accident Saturday afternoon which will lay him up for some time. While working in his barn he fell a distance of about ten feet, striking on his shoulder. While seriously injured, he considers himself fortunate, as the accident might have proven more serious.

The Legion and Auxiliary will make their annual trip to the state hospital at Elgin, Sunday. Edwin Harris Bergh's grade school orchestra will be in the caravan and furnish music.

The regular smoker meeting of the American Legion will be held at the club rooms Tuesday evening, March 26th.

A card party is to be sponsored by the Auxiliary for Tuesday afternoon, April 2, in their club rooms.

The entertainment committee of the Legion under Charles Hanson is planning an invitation dance for Tuesday, April 2. This is to be an annual affair.

Henry Gruben has been called before the Veterans Bureau for examination and possible hospitalization.

Wallace Cooley has been home from Speedway Hospital, Maywood, on a week's furlough.

Burton King and James Doner are doing nicely at Great Lakes hospital. Service Officer John W. Nelson is now handling fourteen cases of Legionnaires. This is one reason why Legionnaires should pay their 1929 dues.

A. M. Guhl has been appointed chairman of the Citizens Military Training Camp committee of Rochelle Post American Legion. The others members of the committee are: John P. Manning and Harold Stevens.

The Rochelle Woman's Club will hold a cookie and candy shower as an Easter treat for the war veterans at Elgin. Members are requested to bring their donations to the club meeting on Friday or to Grieve & Walker's store on Saturday.

At a recent meeting of the Red Cross, the board of directors engaged Mrs. Mae Reid, as local community nurse for another year. Mrs. Reid has given excellent satisfaction.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Heron, Sunday, March 17, St. Patrick's Day, at the Glidden Hospital at DeKalb. The baby has been named Ralph Howard.

Mrs. Emanuel Hibb is seriously ill at the Lincoln Hospital. Her niece, Mrs. Carl Wolf, of Terre Haute, Ind. is with her assisting in her care.

Paul Carney, sophomore at Notre Dame University, has had to give up school on account of rheumatism and has returned to his home here.

The Flag Center Missionary Society will give a scramble dinner next Thursday, March 28, at the Flag Center church.

The Art Department of the Rochelle Woman's club will meet at the library next Tuesday afternoon, March 26, at 2:45 o'clock.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church will meet in the church parlors, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Edward Jackson's division will serve.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Myers entertained at dinner-bridge at their home Sunday evening. Covers were laid for twelve. Mrs. E. T. Berscheid and Mark Smith had high scores.

Rochelle—With the prospects of an early spring becoming a realization the Rochelle Tennis Club are clearing the decks for action. The club membership will be limited to thirty this year and 1928 members will be given preferred consideration in completing the membership. All other applications will be filed and considered according to the date each is received. The annual fee is $15.00, payable in advance. The increase in dues is deemed necessary because of the expense which the club will have this year.

A most successful 1929 as far as tennis is concerned is planned. The courts will be improved by the application of more stone and calcium chloride and a larger playing surface will be secured by removing more sod adjacent to the courts. New nets and reels will be purchased. Tournaments will be held with such towns at Rockford, Mt. Morris, DeKalb and Dixon. Both A and B teams will be formed so that players who do not make the A team can engage in tournament play with the smaller towns such as Ashton and Franklin Grove. F. J. Biehnang is president of the local club.

RESERVED FOR ANIMALS

New York—One floor of a hotel recently built here reserves the thirty-first floor for the dogs and cats of its guests. The hotel also furnishes a veterinary, kennel maids and a cook for the pets, as well as bathrooms—a "beauty parlor" and a screened-in exercise run on the roof.

Lenten Thoughts

BY WILLIAM F. GILROY, D. D.

Editor of The Congregationalist

The illustration may seem homely and inadequate for the greatness of the idea and ideal, but I have never found anything that quite so aptly illustrates the right attitude of the soul toward God as the story of a negro and his bride.

The negro asked the minister who married them how much he should give him, and the minister facetiously and rather foolishly replied, "How much do you think your bride is worth?" The negro was entirely equal to the occasion. "Pahson," he said, "you'd make me bankrupt for the rest of my life."

That is how every man who has a deep sense of the love of God feels toward that love. It is moreover, suggestive of the inherent quality and incentive of all true love—human and divine. Where there is such love or the response to such love, the question is always not how little we can do, or a carping consideration of what we should do. The one thought is, How much can I do for love and in response to love?

Love is never calculating, or if it calculates it is to estimate how much can be given, never how little. "Fullness," "abundance," "eternal"—these are the sort of words in which the New Testament speaks of the love of God to men, and our love should move in the same realm of expression.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

A talebearer revealeth secrets; but he that is of a faithful spirit concealeth the matter.—Proverbs 11:13.

Fire and sword are but slow engines of destruction in comparison with the babbling.—Steale.

PART OF HIS JOB

Rochester, N. Y.—In the 30 years that he has run a boat livery here, Michael Schlegel has pulled the bodies of 100 suicides from the Genesee river. In addition, Schlegel says he has rescued four persons from attempted suicide by drowning. He is paid a specified sum by the city for each recovered body.

The chief products of the Cape Verde Islands are coffee, hides and millet.

The Demand Is Steadily Increasing

Five chassis—sixes and eights—prices ranging from $285 to $2495. Car illustrated Model 615 Cabriolet with Rumble Seat—six cylinder, 76 horsepower, 115" wheelbase, $1295 (special equipment extra). All prices at factory.

Public approval of the new sixes and eights made possible a 214% increase in January and February shipments over the same months in 1928—when Graham-Paige enjoyed a first year sales volume which set a new all-time record for the industry. This expression of confidence is sincerely appreciated.

There are many reference books for the high school pupils which alone is worth the fifty cents. Fiction and plenty of non-fiction for everyone. We feel certain that the library has furnished good reading to a large number of our people who otherwise could not have had the pleasure of reading the books. Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.

—Matthew.

Where Miners Emerged

It was through this opening, on a hillside, five miles away, that many of the miners trapped in the Parnassus, Pa., explosion escaped from the fiery and gas-filled depths after grave fears had been entertained for their safety. This picture shows some of the first of the miners emerging from this exit after making their way five miles through dark passages.

BETTER RACE FOR AMERICAN LOOP'S FANS IN PROSPECT

Will Probably be More Than Two Team Race During Season

BY BRIAN BELL

Associated Press Sports Writer
Atlanta, Ga., Mar. 23.—(AP)—If early star gazers have read correctly signs in the American League baseball sky there will be no two team race this season. In 1928 the New York Yankees and Philadelphia Athletics thundered to the wire neck and neck, the Yankees finally nosing out the A's. The St. Louis Browns, in third place, were sixteen games back. As the new season approaches with its fresh trials and problems it may be found that the Yankees and Athletics have shown less improvement than the other six clubs in the circuit.

Of the four second division clubs in 1928, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland and Boston, the Detroit Tigers, under new management and partially renovated, seem to furnish the most serious threat to the teams higher up.

Lary Is At Home
Lyn Lary, the high priced new shortstop of the Yankees has found himself at home and Mark Koenig doubtless will do well enough at third. Tony Lazzeri's hitting power has not been lessened. With Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig able to swing their big bats, most of the experts agree that little or nothing can be done about the pennant chase without consulting Manager Miller Huggins. Herb Pennock probably will pitch some good ball games and at least one new pitcher should be ready.

Connie Mack has stood pat on the personnel of the Athletics but has rearranged the infield. Jimmy Fox will be the regular first sacker. Jimmy Dykes is the leading third base candidate. The A's infield under the new arrangement may prove to be stronger. An already strong pitching staff has been made stronger by recruits but the starting moundmen will remain the same.

Harris Watches Uble
Stanley Harris, making his bow to Detroit fans as Manager, seems to have a great chance to move the Tigers up from their sixth place position of last year. Roy Johnson should help an outfield that was fair before. George Uble may carry the club's destiny with him. If he has a good year the clever "Bucky" Harris will be happy. Other questions for the manager may be how well Dale Alexander will field and will St. Louis carry on at short. The St. Louis Browns have retained their fighting spirit. A clever fielder has been added to the infield in the person of third baseman Eddie Grimes and another recruit infielder, Leonard Dondero may be heard from. "Rip" Collins, a pitcher who "has everything" according to the other players, should win some games.

Washington's Senators will be built about the personality of the beloved Walter Johnson, who has his chance as a major league manager after a brief apprenticeship at Newark. Buddy Myer at third base and Ossie Bluege, transferred to shortstop, form a combination setting his mind at rest on that side of the infield. Adolph Liska and Archie Campbell, a former Yankee, have shown promise and if they can win now and then, Johnson will feel much better.

With Other Teams
Cleveland will offer an outfit largely made over from 1928 with the exception of the battery forces. The Indians may have the satisfaction of breaking in two recruit outfielders Dick Porter and Earl Everett; and Ed Fisk, long a Chicago White Sox, will be a valuable man for Manager Peckinpaugh. Jackie Tavener has fitted in at shortstop and Joe Sewell will play good ball at third. Jim Sime, a clever minor league pitcher, will have another chance under the big top.

The Chicago White Sox will depend on the fast young men who joined the team last autumn to keep them in the running with the exception of Johnny Kerr, drafted from Hollywood at second base. Long without a capable southpaw pitcher, Manager Lena Blackburne hopes this shortage has been met by the arrival of Bob Welland from Moline. Dan Dugan, a collegian, may be along later.

Some time must elapse before Manager Bill Carrigan will know how good his latest cast of the Boston Red Sox is to be. He has seen enough to convince him that it is a stronger combination than last year. Bob Rea's, former Washington infielder, is one of the most promising, but the collegian is not alone. The Sox will have many new faces.

Eight Teams Remain in Catholic Tourney

BY ORLO L. ROBERTSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
Chicago, Ill., Mar. 23.—(AP)—The National Catholic high school basketball title, scheduled to be decided Sunday night at Loyola University, lay in reach of eight teams from three sections of the country today. Making its first appearance in the tournament yesterday, recovered five eastern entries by winning two games to go into the quarter final round against Decatur high of Decatur, Ind.

St. Stanislaus, Bay St. Louis, Miss., with one of the biggest teams in the tournament, was to uphold the honor of the south against Columbia Academy of Dubuque, Iowa, in the fourth round.

St. Xavier, of Cincinnati made a strong bid by downing the defending champions, De LaSalle, in the feature game of the second round. The blue and white outfit from Ohio takes on Spalding of Peoria, Ill., state Catholic champions, in its next attempt.

The quarter-final round was scheduled to be played this afternoon with the winners meeting in the semi-final round tonight.

Scores of last night's games: Cathedral of Indianapolis 20, St. Theresa, Detroit 19; Decatur Catholic High, Decatur, Ind., 23, Creighton University High, Omaha, 11; St. Michael, Union City, N. J., 23, Ambrose, Davenport, Iowa, 15.

Freeport High Out of Title Finals

Champaign, Ill., Mar. 23.—(AP)—Champaign, co-title holder of the Big Twelve conference, will seek the basketball crown of the state tonight at the University of Illinois gymnasium.

Freeport and Peoria Central will compete for third place honors.

Champaign won the right to compete in the finals by virtue of a victory over Freeport last night 40 to 24.

After allowing Freeport to score the first basket, Champaign took an early lead and with the aid of a sub forward, Archie McDonald, kept far ahead. McDonald scored thirteen points in about twenty minutes of playing time.

Johnston City, playing Canton's style of basketball, will meet Champaign for the title by virtue of a 19 to 15 victory over Peoria Central. The miners trailed at the end of the second and third quarters by one point, but entered the final with a burst of speed that gave them seven points. While Central's best was two free throws made by their ace, George Soper, with one minute to play left.

SLUGGERS FAIL TO SHOW PUNCH FANS EXPECTED

McLarnin and Miller Put on Tame Show for New Yorkers

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
New York, March 23.—(AP)—The boys who pay "the freight" may be expected to view with ill-concealed amusement any future pugilistic encounter between well advertised sluggers.

Having understood that Jimmy McLarnin and Ray Miller could hit with the lethal power of a stick of dynamite, 21,000 of the fistie faithful trustfully paid $11,000 to see McLarnin outpoint the blonde Chicagoan last night in as dull a ten round bout as Madison Square Garden has seen in recent months.

Miller, possibly best of the lightweight left hook punchers in the business, stopped McLarnin in a sensational and bloody scrap at Detroit some months ago. Despite the fact that McLarnin seems definitely to have outgrown the 135-pound division, there was almost unprecedented interest in their return meeting.

The crowd came to cheer a slugger; he remained to boo a none-too-good boxing exhibition marked by as many clinches as there were in any of the heavyweight eliminations of a year or so ago.

Jimmy and Ray had developed such a healthy respect for each other's socking ability that each felt uneasy unless the fighting was at close quarters where a clean punch is next to impossible. The only damage was to the fans' expectations.

In the seventh round, McLarnin shifted his attack to Miller's body and then caught the blonde with a right on the chin that dazed him. After that it was all clear sailing for McLarnin. He had regained some measure of his usual confidence and he cuffed Miller about the ring until the finish.

By the Associated Press
New York—Jimmy McLarnin, Detroit, outpointed Ray Miller, Chicago, (10).

Omaha—Tommy Grogan, Omaha, knocked out Russ LeRoy, Fargo, N. D., (7).

Milwaukee—Herman Perlick, Kalama, Mich., outpointed Solly Seaman, New York, (8).

Boston—Ernie Schaaf, Boston, outpointed Al Friedman, Boston, (10). Kid Chocolate, Cuba, stopper Johnnie Vacca, Boston, (9).

New Orleans—Jack Britton, former welterweight champion, outpointed Farmer Joe Cooper, Terre Haute, Ind., (10).

Des Moines—Joey Phelan, Omaha, stopped Teddy Gartin, Lincoln, (6).

LOT OF LUCK NEEDED
"I think I have a much better ball club than I had last year, but I am not claiming the pennant." John McGraw told me at the Giants' training camp in San Antonio. "It is flattering to hear you say that the other managers think so highly of the Giants, but it is only natural to appreciate strength in another ball club. For my part, I appreciate the power of the Chicago club."

"If the Giants win the pennant this year they will have to have a lot of luck," McGraw went on. "By that I do not mean that I haven't real confidence in my club or that we would have to win on a fluke. But I insist that even the best of ball clubs have to be blessed with luck. A sick ball player, a badly injured player or two and lame arms from bad weather are the bad breaks that a manager has to miss to get in."

"For instance, since we have been here in the training camp two accidents have happened to us. Carl Mays broke the thumb on his left hand fielding a hit and Leach split his hand. I am counting on Mays for a lot of pitching and am figuring on Leach as a regular outfielder."

There were two breaks in bad luck right there. But in another way it may have been good luck. Supposing that those accidents had happened during the regular season and they had been of no service for three weeks. These men probably will be ready when the season opens and probably will be no worse off as a result of the accidents.

SOLD ON TONY KAUFFMAN
"I'll tell you why I think the ball club this year is an improvement over last year. I know more about this club and what can be expected of the players, their strong points and their weak points. Last year I had four men in places of vital importance that I didn't know anything about. That is, I didn't know them as a manager should know his men."

"I had Benton, Hogan, Welch and Cohen and I didn't know much more about them than their records would show and what I had seen of them in a comparatively few games. This year I know them and their capabilities. That gives me relief on four men."

"I have Leach in the outfield this year and also Tony Kauffman. I have learned about them. It didn't take me a week to become convinced that they would do. I may surprise you by telling you that I am going to use Kauffman as an alternating regular. It only took one play for me to become sold on him. He came in one day and picked a ball right off the ground with one hand at full speed and made a snap throw to first."

"Some of my old fellows said:

"Mac, that's better than Mann ever could do." I knew it when he made the play. I am not being unkind in saying this about Mann. He knew his own limitations.

"Because Kauffman was up once as a pitcher the impression seems prevalent that he is an old fellow. He is not. He's only 27. When he was pitching I noticed that he was a natural hitter and a great fielder. He hurt his arm and then went to the outfield. I'm all enthused about him."

SWEET ON THREE ROOKIES
McGraw isn't certain about the rookies in his camp. That is, he isn't certain about their immediate future. He couldn't be with so few places for them on the club.

But he doesn't hesitate in his enthusiasm about Crawford and Jorjette, infielders, and Veltman, an outfielder.

"I am particularly proud of them because I scouted them and signed them myself," he said, referring to Crawford and Jorjette. "They won't do right away perhaps, but they are sure stars in the making. I know because of the money I have been offered for them."

Old Col. Boze Bulger, the crony of McGraw, spoke up: "The greatest pair I've seen in years," he said. "Right now they would draw more on the open market than Larry and Reese did when they were sold."

"Old Boze is a great enthusiast," McGraw said. "But his judgment is correct about the ability of the young men—about their market value compared to Larry and Reese (who cost the Yanks $125,000). The two pairs are not the same type ball players. I think that Jordan's natural position is first base. In two years you're going to hear a lot about them."

Because Myer, Bluege and Hayes, Washington infielders, have such good throwing arms, Joe Judge, first baseman, says his position at first will be easy to play this summer.

Gets Ohio State Job
Tucker P. Smith, former assistant trainer at Northwestern, has been named athletic trainer at Ohio State University to succeed Mike Chambers.

Missed Twice in Two Years.
Earl Averill, Cleveland rookie outfielder, says he missed only two games in two seasons of play in the Pacific Coast League.

Has Youthful Ways
Although Coach Jimmy Austin, with the St. Louis Browns, is more than 50 years old, he is one of the peppiest men connected with the Browns.

BOXING SHOW TONIGHT
Tonight at 9 o'clock in Schuler Hall over the Dixon Trust & Savings Bank, there will be an amateur boxing exhibition. Fletcher Spotts and Homer Collins are also on the bill.

MY THIRTY YEARS AT SEA

By Capt. George Fried

Fried says he would far rather stand on the bridge of the American and face a stinging norwester than to be confronted by an admiring throng waiting for him to make a speech. He declares he does not feel like a hero; does not in fact know how a hero should feel. He got a big thrill out of a visit to Worcester, Mass., his home town, however, while the New York and other receptions left him dazed.

BY CAPT. GEORGE FRIED
(Copyright, 1929, Associated Press)
CHAPTER XXIII

Twice I have been the central figure in rather spectacular sea rescues and twice I have been honored and feted by thousands of my fellow citizens in various parts of the country, but I can assure you that it is far easier standing on the bridge of my America, facing a stinging norwester than to be confronted by an admiring throng waiting for me to make a speech. A sailor is at home on a ship but not in a hall or auditorium or behind the banquet table. Sailors may be noted for spinning yarns but not at banquets.

After the Antinoe rescue this hero business was all new and strange. I felt it was all a dream. It was an amazing and bewildering experience and never once did I know what the expect next. I weathered the first so after the second I resigned to whatever might come.

As great, if not greater, was my first greeting in New York City and later I visited Washington, Philadelphia, Boston, Providence, Chicago, Cincinnati, Culver, Ind., and by home town, Worcester, Mass. In each city I was given tremendous ovations and extended such unusual courtesies that each experience will always be indelibly carved in my memory, but with it all I have one regret—that I did not have with me my chief officer, Mr. Manning, and his splendid boat crew.

Like a general commanding an army or an admiral directing a squadron of ships, the captain of a merchant vessel receives credit for something done by his officers and men. But there are others whose work cannot be overlooked. First of all there is the personal heroism of every individual in the boat crew who endangers his life by venturing in an open boat on a high sea. Then there are the men who double up to maintain the steam pressure in the boilers and the alert engine crew that responds instantly to orders from the bridge. The loss of a moment in executing an order by these men might mean disaster and yet they can see nothing from their positions in the hold of the ship. The credit for effecting a safe rescue belongs to every man in the crew, but in the case of failure, the blame is placed upon the shoulders of the captain.

I do not particularly feel like a hero. The fact is I do not know how a hero should feel, yet there is a certain amount of self satisfaction and pride in knowing that with Divine Guidance I was successful in finding both disabled ships and getting their human cargo aboard my vessels. But after all, it was in the line of duty and the master of any ship in my position would have done his best.

I could have enjoyed all the receptions that have been given in my honor if I had never been called on to make a speech. Responding to eloquent discourses on heroism is the most difficult part of the rescue business. At first I could not enjoy the banquets and luncheons at all. All too quickly the toastmaster would rise and the speeches would start. I would try to listen and at the same time endeavor to prepare in my mind a response that would be appropriate. But when I arose my mind was befuddled. If I had any idea of what I was going to say before I started, I had forgotten it. My voice sounded so weak. Words would fail me and my embarrassment did not help matters any. Then I would sputter something and would not lose much time in returning to my seat. I was called upon so often that after a while I could concentrate and at last say what I wanted. I still appreciate that I will never become an orator and I have no ambitions along those lines.

After my last rescue job I decided to send a radio to the general manager of the United States Lines suggesting that he protect me from an extensive program with parades and banquets.

Golf in Water is New Pastime

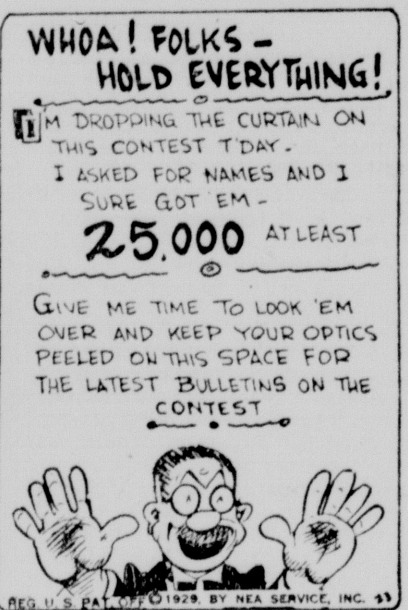

There isn't any water hole on this golf course at Pasadena, Calif.—or rather, it's all water hole. The game was introduced recently at an al fresco party around the Huntington pool. Miss Evalynne Wolf of Pasadena is pictured as she executes a difficult approach shot.

THE HOUSEWIFE'S "ROLL"

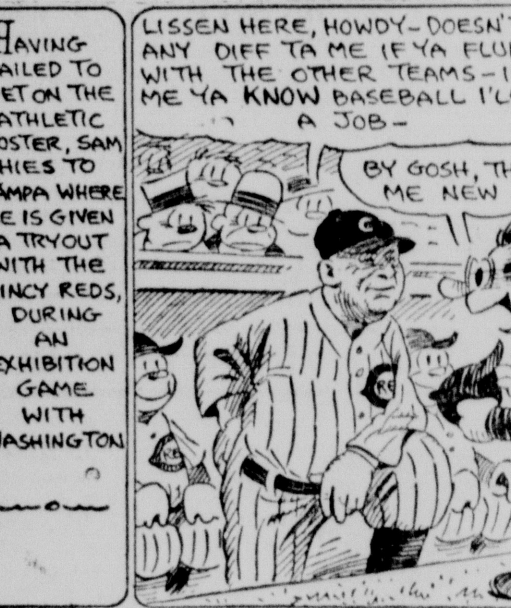

The mark of a model housewife is not always put out in plain sight for every corner to see. As often as not it lurks in some inconspicuous place which only the most discerning observer would discover. There is the matter of centerpieces, for example. The careless housewife places her doilies and centerpieces in the bottom of some drawer or cupboard where they are almost sure to become soiled and crumpled before their time comes to be used. The careful woman makes a roll for preserving them as fresh and glossy as when they left the iron-er's hands. Such a roll requires only a few cents and half an hour's time to make. It can be made out of part of an empty flour bag which may be had from any baker for a few cents, or which came with a sack of flour for home baking. The stamping is not hard to remove. The inked places can be covered with lard or kerosene for a few hours and then washed in warm water, or javelle water may be successfully used. The size of the material needed should be about three inches wider and six inches longer than your largest centerpiece. One end is cut to a point as shown in the illustration. The sides and this end are then bound with bias tape of light pink, green or blue. Attach ties of sufficient length. The other end is fastened with small tacks or thumb tacks to a bit of broom handle or window shade roller, cut to the correct width. In this way the cover may easily be removed for washing. Or, if suitable wood is not available, a mailing tube will be found a satisfactory substitute. In making such a roll for a bazaar or shower present—a practical and popular suggestion—one may make it a trifle more decorative by the addition of a little handwork, such as a simple spray of flowers or a cross-stitch initial. Cases for six-inch and nine-inch doilies may be made of the same material and bound to match. For stiffening, use an interlining of canvas or a cardboard disc.

HUSBANDS FORM CLIQUE Dessau, Germany—Downtrodden husbands of this city, who complain against too much feminism, and that their wives are neglecting household duties for politics, have banded together in a league and are pledged to render one another mutual aid in resisting wifely pretensions.

Billy Sunday's favorite song "Brighten Up the Corner Where You Are" suggests to us that a can or two of our fine paint or varnish will do much to brighten up the corner and other places in your home this Spring.

We will finance your new home on the monthly payment plan. Your payments are made in Dixon. Your money stays in Dixon. We will be glad to talk it over.

Your cat with its nine lives can afford to fall down the cellar stairs—but you can't. Better play safe and replace those worn steps now with a few of our good boards.

We have no tonic or medicine to offer you but just the same we are Spring time specialists in helping you to forget the long winter and "fix up" for Spring. Ask us for any help you need on any repairing or remodeling work you are planning to do.

Household Hint! When you notice scratches on mahogany or walnut furniture paint them with iodine to restore the color. Then polish with a cloth.

Yes, we can readily understand why Mr. Hoover went to Chicago for a secretary of war.

The man who is prepared for tomorrow is the one who got ready today. That applies particularly to your roof. The rainy Spring days will soon be here so why not see us now about that "leaky" roof.
